

Kone – Fudan Nordic Centre Scholarships in Research Periods in Shanghai during academic the year 2023-2024

Kone – Fudan Nordic Centre Scholarships in Research Periods in Shanghai are open for applications until 28.5.2023. The length of the period is from 4 to 6 months. Nordic Centre at Fudan University, Shanghai will offer the grantees office space and some support services. Nordic Centre at Fudan University was established in 1995 through a collaborative effort between 14 Nordic universities and Fudan University. Today the network consists of 24 member institutions in China, Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden. Nordic Centre seeks to be an essential hub for cutting-edge Sino-Nordic research, research-based education and outreach activities. For more information, please refer to <http://www.nordiccentre.net/> and documents there. This scholarship programme is a specific project coordinated by the University of Turku and funded by the Kone Foundation. The last year of the currently funded project is 2024.

Criteria for applying

All researchers and academic staff affiliated in one of the Nordic Centre's Finnish member university and fulfilling the criteria are eligible for this scholarship for a minimum 4 months and maximum 6 months research period in China to be carried out during the autumn 2023 or during the spring term 2024. In the essence, the scholarship is meant to cover most of expenses in China. Therefore, in general those scholarship receivers who are employed should normally be on leave from their salary work. The minimum period of stay is 4 months, which justifies in most cases the possibility to have a pension insurance at MELA.

Applications are considered from doctoral candidates, post-doctoral researchers and teachers affiliated with the Finnish member universities and doing research in the priority fields of the humanities, social sciences or environmental sciences and multidisciplinary work that involves the academic fields mentioned above are eligible for this scholarship. Moreover, research in the fields of education, psychology, theology, law and business are eligible only in case of a wider interdisciplinary dimension. Medical research is not supported. Applicants and receivers of this scholarship should proof to be affiliated with a Finnish member university during the research period in Shanghai. The aim is also that the grant receiver will return to the Finnish member university to continue their research there after the research period and benefit the research community with the possibly new contacts and networks. In addition to carrying out research, an asset to the application is the added relevance for of the Nordic Centre context e.g. in the forms of the possibility and visions to create long-term links, plan research projects and joint articles. After the research period at the Nordic Centre, the grantee is required to write a report to the project committee and to the Kone Foundation.

The funding decisions are guided by the same fields (above mentioned) and central values that are defined in the Kone Foundation's own strategy, such as: academic freedom and the intrinsic value of research, a plurality of voice, boldness (for the full information, please see <https://koneensaatio.fi/en/grants/grantapplicants/for-what-purposes-does-the-kone-foundation-grant-funding/>). Moreover, enforcing the Sino-Nordic research cooperation is part of the strategy of the Nordic Center which encourages new cooperation especially, but not only, in four interdisciplinary focus areas: Sino-Nordic perspectives; Sustainable development; Digitalization and technology and Health and welfare. The research carried out under this programme can be focused e.g. on China or in globally and mutually interesting topics, in which the knowledge of Chinese is not necessary. In both cases, however, the possibility of creating cooperation with Chinese scholars in the topics of mutual interest is one of the assets in the selection. Also, cooperation with additional Nordic member institutions and their researchers can be involved.

Please see also the section Conditions for grantees receiving the scholarship below for more information which might be relevant when you are planning your research period.

What is the length of the scholarship period and amount of scholarship?

The amount of the scholarship is 2500 euros/month for doctoral candidates or 3000 - 3600 euros/month for post docs and advanced researchers. The monthly scholarships will be paid out by the Kone Foundation but administered by the coordinator. In addition, the project will pay a travel grant of up to 1200 euros except that for those employed by the University of Turku the travel costs will be paid up to 1200 euros. The grantees will pay visa and other travel costs and arrange these themselves. Please see also the section Conditions for receiving the scholarship below for other matters the grantee must take into consideration.

The scholarships are intended only for longer research periods (4 to 6 months) in China, and the Nordic Centre at Fudan University, Shanghai functions as a base for the grantees. The scholarship programme is intended to support and expand research conducted in the Finnish member universities, therefore the affiliation with the Finnish member university during and after the research period is relevant. The aim is to stimulate researchers to expand their research focus towards research connected with China and to make longer research periods in China possible for them.

Nordic Centre support

The role of the Nordic Centre is to help grantees with practical issues at the Nordic Centre and when settling in Shanghai and writing invitations for visa. The Centre can also help to make contacts between the grantees and relevant academics at Fudan University, when possible. This availability of the cooperators will depend on the mutual interest. Therefore, it is beneficial if you already have some contacts yourself. In some cases the grantees who are doctoral candidates can attend courses or other educational events offered by the Nordic Centre.

Programme Manager of the Nordic Centre at Fudan University: Veli-Matti Palomäki: veli-matti.palomaki@nordiccentre.net. Please contact him with additional enquiries concerning especially the Nordic Centre and Fudan University <http://www.nordiccentre.net/>. There you can also find the Handbook for visiting scholars which will help you when planning your visit. The Strategy of the Centre is also available.

Conditions for grantees receiving the scholarship

Salary, other scholarships, taxation and sanctuary payments

The grantees of this scholarship are obligated to take care of all legal obligations and consequences concerning e. g. taxation, statutory insurance and retirement plan fees as well as personal insurances. The Social Insurance Institution MELA provides pension, accident and group life insurance coverage for those under Finnish social security system and receiving scholarships. Statutory insurance payments are approximately 12 - 15% of the monthly grant. Further information on MELA insurance and payments: <https://www.mela.fi/en/grant-and-scholarship-recipients> and in Finnish: <https://www.mela.fi/fi/apurahansaajat>. The project will inform MELA of individuals who have received funding. It is, however, the responsibility of the grant recipient belonging to the Finnish social security system to contact MELA themselves in order to arrange their coverage. In addition to contacting MELA it is also important to contact Kela and taxation office when arranging the period abroad. The grantees not belonging to the Finnish social security system should secure suitable insurance coverage during their stay in China.

In the essence, the monthly scholarship is meant to cover most of expenses in China including the accommodation costs. Therefore, in general those scholarship receivers who are employed should normally be on leave from their salary work. The grantees holding also another scholarship need to follow the rules of both financing parties. However, especially post-doc researchers and senior researchers may in some cases discuss with their employer on whether they could also be paid part of their salary. The purpose would be then to compensate a possible reduction of the income level during the research period in China. In general, the grantees could obtain 25 % of their salary at the maximum, and the research conducted in China should be related to the researcher's general research profile. Especially if the paid salary is higher than 25 %, it can reduce the amount of the payable grant and needs to be negotiated. Also, another scholarship may have an effect to the amount of this grant. It is recommended that another income (partial salary or another scholarship) is mentioned already in the application. In case this is not possible or known at that point, the contact person at the University of Turku needs to be informed of any such arrangements prior to the payment of the actual grant. The Kone Foundation will make the final decision on the amount of the payable grant in such occasions. Anyone employed in the Finnish University when receiving a scholarship at the same time, should contact their own HR and travel experts, to find out obligations from the employers side.

Following the rules of Kone Foundation in this project

The project follows the rules and instructions given by Kone Foundation for all its grantees. The following sections are the most important for an individual grantee: social security; taxation; research funding, ethical considerations, reuse of research material and open access. Individual grantee should also see in the section Grant payment the following points: changes, suspension of payment and cancellation. The coordinator (University of Turku) is however, the leader of the project and the primary contact point in any questions concerning the granted scholarship or matters related to the research period. This project is responsible of all the coordination towards Kone Foundation is issues like grant payments and project's own reporting.

After the research period at the Nordic Centre, the grantee is required to write a report to the project committee and to the Kone Foundation. The coordinator will advice about that.

Handling of your Data – Privacy Notices related to the project

The coordinating university, member universities, Kone Foundation and MELA will handle the applicants and scholarship receivers' personal data according to their respective data protection rules.

Application phase: your information given in this application will be handled in the application phase by the coordinator (University of Turku) of the project and also the project committee who makes the decisions (consisting of representatives from several Finnish Universities). The data is kept at the University of Turku according to regulations of the University of Turku and funding organisation (Kone Foundation) as well as handled by the project committee's members' universities' regulations.

The project coordinator, University of Turku takes into consideration of the projects' requirements for the archiving and archiving periods of the applications and decisions. The privacy notice of the University of Turku: <https://www.utu.fi/en/privacy/notice> and in Finnish: <https://www.utu.fi/fi/tietosuoja>.

The grantees: the grantees' information will be delivered to Kone Foundation for the payments of the monthly scholarships (payment request and register for the scholarships) and to MELA (project leaders' responsibility for informing MELA). They have their own Privacy notices for handling the data: Kone Foundation: https://koneensaatio.fi/en/about-us/kone-foundations-privacy-policy-statement/, in Finnish: https://koneensaatio.fi/meista/koneen-saation-saannot_tietosuojaselosteet/; MELA: <https://www.mela.fi/en/about-mela/processing-of-personal-data-and-data-protection-at-mela/privacy-and-cookie-policy/> and in Finnish: <https://www.mela.fi/tietoa-melasta/tietosuoja/>. The grantees' data will be handled at the University of Turku for the payment of travel grant and for the running of the project with Kone Foundation. This includes e.g. reporting responsibility to Kone Foundation and the necessary PR and communication activities (e.g. news about results).

Furthermore, only limited information such as the grantees name, field of research and research topic will be distributed to Fudan Nordic Centre in Shanghai, China when the decision has been made and the grantee has accepted the grant. University of Turku and other Finnish member universities, Kone Foundation and Nordic Centre may publish the grantee's name and field of study and research topic in their websites. The grantee her/himself will deal with the Nordic Centre for invitation purposes and with relevant authorities in Finland and China (Nordic Centre, embassy, taxation, insurance ect). Further information about data handling can be obtained from the project leadership: kkorpela\(at\)utu.fiutu.fi)
